

CAP NEW YORK WING GROUPS SUPPORT WARBIRD AIRSHOW

On July 8,9 & 10 Finger Lakes Group with the support of Western NY, Central NY and South Central Group; supported the National Warplane Museum Air show. Combining CAP missions of Aerospace Education, Cadet Program and Emergency Services the activity was run by cadet officers and NCOs, supported by seniors and according to the NWM was a huge success. Flight line crews provided guidance and safety oversight to crowds during aircraft evolutions from refueling to taxi operations. Cadets and Seniors participated in Recruiting and Public Relations events from staffing of the recruiting tent to giving one on one talks to an interested public about CAP opportunities at the C-182 static display. Cadets and Seniors also participated in ES training activities which started with preplanning of the event, safety briefings, Aerial Imaging of the event for emergency planning and communications. A night time UDF training was conducted with 2 teams of UDF trainees conducting a ramp search. OIC for the Event Lt Col Candi Jones and Cadet OIC C/2LT Andrew Hecht supervised 7 senior/cadet staff positions and 6 flight line teams, consisting of over 75 personnel, many of which bivouacked on site for the event.

Group Photo from Day 2

A former member from the 1940-1950 Rochester Unit

